

WHO IS THIS PROGRAM FOR?

Our Recovery-based Transitional Housing programs provide stability after treatment. These programs offer structure, support, and connection to help individuals move toward long-term wellness.

This program may be a good fit for individuals who:

- Are in recovery and seeking housing in a substance-free living environment
- Can manage daily living independently
- Are engaging in supports that align with their wellness goals
- Are working toward long-term housing, education, or employment
- Can provide basic documentation (e.g., TB screen, proof of income)

OVERVIEW

- Up to 24-month transitional housing
- Substance-free environment to support personal goals
- Includes case management and personalized recovery planning
- Group programs, peer support, and community referrals
- Referrals are made by any member of the applicant's community supports in collaboration with the applicant

ABOUT PHOENIX

Phoenix Society provides mental health and substance use support to individuals to enhance well-being. We do this by addressing the social determinants of health and by fostering stronger community connections and inclusion. We meet people where they're at and create a safe environment to take action towards their goals. Our programs and services span prevention, early intervention, harm reduction, treatment, recovery, housing, employment, community inclusion, health care and education.

SUPPORT TO HELP YOU MOVE FORWARD

At Phoenix, residents live in private, single-occupancy rooms. Floors are co-ed, with dedicated self-identifying male and female floors available as needed. We encourage program participants to build connections, explore their goals, and access the supports that best suit their needs. Each program offers:

-  Case management
-  Life skills building
-  Education and employment support
-  Cultural engagement
-  Social supports access
-  Community activities
-  Housing support

WHY TRY PHOENIX?

At Phoenix, residents are supported by a dedicated team that understands recovery is a personal and non-linear process. We walk alongside each resident, offering guidance, encouragement, and consistent, respectful care.

Residents are invited to engage with the program in ways that reflect their own goals and readiness. Whether you're building life skills, exploring housing options, or reconnecting with community, you're in the driver's seat.

Our approach is trauma-informed, person-centred, and grounded in trust. We are committed to providing care that is culturally safe, gender-affirming, and inclusive of all identities and backgrounds.

Through one-on-one support and collaborative planning, we help residents build stability and confidence.

Step 1: Referral Form

Submit a referral form through the QR code to Phoenix's Transitional Housing team.

Step 2: Review by Our Team

Our admissions team reviews the referral and application to gain a deeper understanding of the individual's needs and goals.

Step 3: Interview with Housing Manager

We'll schedule a one-on-one interview to explore how our program can support their next steps.

Step 4: Transition Planning

If accepted, we'll coordinate a transition plan and timeline in collaboration with the care team.

Step 5: Move-In

Upon entry, individuals meet with their Case Manager to be intaken into the program and move into their private room.
